Friday 20th September

What a busy week it has been! The children have had so many wonderful learning opportunities in and out of the classroom. We are so proud of their hard work and determination. We hope you enjoy reading about all the fantastic awards won and events the children have taken part in this week.

Superstar Writers!

Exciting news for all our budding future authors. This year, the 28th Young Writers annual competition was held. Children from 5-7 were asked to write 'My amazing Diary'. The children of the current Rowan class were finishing their topic on Pirates and undertook the task of writing as a Pirate for the day, "Arrrrrh!" Their imaginations were captured and joining over 13,000 entries from across the country began a block of writing. Last Friday, I was handed an envelope that made me so proud of all the children in the class that took part, if not a little emotional! We have been lucky enough to have had 18 children chosen to have their diaries published in a book for Cornwall scheduled for publication on 1st November 2019. I am looking forward to receiving a complementary copy for school. I am sure that you will agree, our children, whether being published or receiving a bookmark and lovely comments from the editor, are all stars of the future. This experience has excited, embraced and enthused all the children and in the words of Albert Einstein "Creativity is contagious, pass it on!"

Sports and clubs Update

With the fantastic Autumn weather, and the very inviting, calm, still waters of Percuil, Maple Class began their Sailing lessons. Half the class ventured out to sea in Pico's, small vessels, using paddles to begin with and later, sails and rudders. Lots of other nautical terms were used by the brilliant instructors as the children became more able, adventurous and indeed confident. Probus staff kayaked amongst the children for continued support and advice. This group will sail for another two weeks and the second group for a further three weeks in October.

A very big thank you to the parents and carers for transport and support with this fantastic opportunity. It reminds us all of what a superb part of the world we live in and the wonderful resources so close to hand.

Stayed tuned to learn more about our journey to the school games.
